

THE CHARLES CLOSE SOCIETY

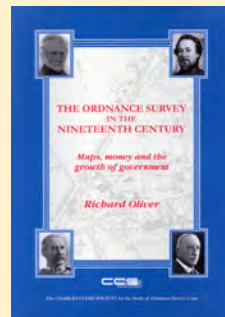

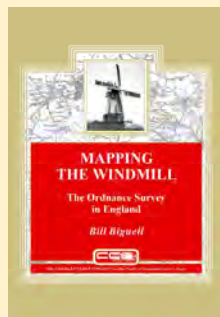

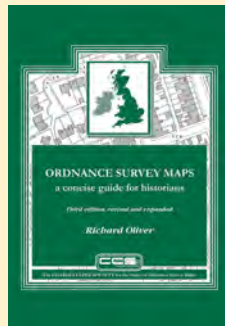

for the Study of Ordnance Survey Maps

Publications Overview

The Society has published a number of books, monographs and map reproductions on topics related to past and present Ordnance Survey (OS) map series. A subset of our publications are given below. The Society also publishes a full-colour journal, Sheetlines, three times each year which includes the results of Members' research, reviews of recent OS publications and news of related OS and Society activities.

The publications listed above can be ordered through the CCS website at www.charlesclosesociety.org/publications, which also shows the full CCS publications list.

They are also all available by post from: Publications Manager, The Charles Close Society, St. Nicholas, 16 East Hill Road, Oxted, Surrey RH8 9HZ, UK

New publications hopefully anticipated during 2021-2022:

- Ordnance Survey intermediate-scale maps, Roger Hellyer and Richard Oliver. This completes the story of the '1:25,000' family, and includes an exhaustive history of the fascinating early military editions and later Pathfinders.
- Ordnance Survey smaller scale maps, Roger Hellyer and Richard Oliver. This is the long-awaited account of the half-inch and quarter-inch maps.

Both books will be fully illustrated with detailed cartobibliographies. They will be published as soon as possible after the COVID-19 restrictions on access to libraries are lifted.

See website for availability & price (near publication time).
